I talk to your kids about sex: Conversations with your sex educator

This 90-minute workshop is for anyone who has, or works with children. We discuss sexual health education and the Ministry of Education Prescribed Learning Outcomes; the content of the classroom sessions; growing up; the adolescent brain; offer suggestions for talking about sexuality and puberty with children; family values; dealing with questions, clothing, music and stories; sexting, pornography, dignity and character; along with abundant web resources to help with the process.

This workshop is delivered in a relaxed, interactive and witty manner, and can be offered both during the day and in the evening.

Parent sessions are included at no charge with multiple-grade bookings.
